New website under construction

We are working hard on our new Sandwich Town Council website, which we hope to bring to you very soon.

We realise that some information currently published here is outdated but assure you that it will be possible to access the most up-to-date information and documentation on our new website when it is fully operational.

We appreciate your understanding and assure you that your patience will be warranted by our new website that will offer a much more accessible, efficient and improved source of information.

Cllr Paul Graeme
Mayor of Sandwich
